Piggy, Chinook and Coho were only around the corner from their home when this odd looking animal stopped them in their tracks.

"Stop! Who goes there?" demanded Sydney, the bearded dragon.

"_____ just us!" said Piggy, sounding a little tired.

"_____ just being silly!" laughed Coho. "Come with us, Sydney. _____ all go home!"

The three guinea pigs and Sydney the dragon, headed off over the hill towards their little part of the forest.

"_____ a fine looking bunch of daisies you have, Coho. What are you going to do with them?" inquired Sydney.

"_____ been carrying them all the way from the valley," bragged Chinook.

"I had a big bunch of daisies when we started for home but _____ dwindled down to only six.

"We had a few interesting events on our way home and those daisies really helped us out", explained Piggy. "I have a great idea that will solve our daisy shortage.

"What's your idea, Piggy?" wheeked Coho and Chinook.
